EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mons. Daubree has analyzed a meteorite, which fell in the province of Entre-Rios, in the Argentine Republic, and finds that it contains iron, lime, magnesia and carbon in an organic form. The last discovery leads him to hope that he may some day find organic remains in a meteorite. It may be recollected that Sir William Thompson, in 1871, suggested the idea that even living organic germs may have been brought to the earth by meteorites, and that the present animal and vegetable life of our planet had its origin in the germs thus introduced. This speculation gives a special interest to any remains or other evidence tending to show that meteorites, or the worlds of which they may have once formed a part ever bore living forms.

Mr. French, formerly Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives, in a recent lecture, told this good story about Governor Butler: When Butler was Chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the House, a delegation from one of the Southern States came to him to confer about the proposed impeachment of a Federal judge, the charges against whom savored of partisanship. "I don't know," was Mr. Butler's reply, "I am Chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the House. The necessary action can be had here, but Lyman Trumbull is Chairman of the Senate Committee, and Judge Trumbull is troubled with two things—the dyspepsia, which makes him miserable, and a conscience, which makes him uncertain."

Alexander H. Stephens' old homestead at Liberty, Ga., is announced for sale for $10,000. It never was worth much as a plantation, but it is memorable as the scene of Stephens' birth and the object of his early ambition. The homestead having passed out of his father's hands, young Stevens devoted his first earnings in the law to the purchase of the old place. It seems fitting that the State of Georgia should buy the Stephens homestead and keep it as a memorial of her most distinguished public man.

The Philadelphia and Reading Railroad will begin at once to manufacture rails 60 feet in length, in stead of 30 feet as heretofore. The rails will also be increased in weight from 68 to 70 pounds per yard. The decreased number of joints to care for will lessen expenses. The weight of a passenger car has been increased from 25,000 to 45,000 pounds, and the parlor cars now used weigh 72,000 pounds.

The North Pacific has the most stupendous land grant ever given to a corporation in this country. The grant embraces 75,000,000 acres, and is valued at $150,000,000. If this land can be sold at an average of $2 50 per acre it will pay for the construction of the road and leave the company a bonus of $70,000,000.

The Boston Herald is inclined to suspect that Mrs. Langtry's notion that a married lady can be adequately chaperoned by her "maid" and a club man protected by his valet, while they are traveling around together in a private car, is too innocent to have been picked up in America.

Twenty-five million dollars is the amount which the Northern people have contributed during the last 20 years for educational purposes in the South. This acknowledgement comes from the Charleston News.

The Oscar and Catarina will remain in Denmark a month.

The steamer carrying the Dutch expedition to the Arctic ocean was wrecked, but no lives were lost.

General S. A. Elkin was placed on the retired list to-day, and will be succeeded by Colonel Rufus Saxton.

A Singular Proceeding.

CHICAGO, August 30.
 In the County Court this afternoon among the people examined in regard to the condition of their minds was Mrs. J. D. Negus of Utah. Her appearance indicates that she is a lady of superior education and refinement. She is the wife of J. D. Negus of Utah, and came to Chicago to be tried for insanity. Family troubles and nervous debility combined to unsettle her reason. She is a subject of insomnia, and quite violent at times. Her disease, according to physicians who testified, had been of over three years' duration. The County Attorney very properly protested against her being tried here, she being a resident of Ogden, Utah. She has lived there from 1879 until up to four weeks ago, when she came here ostensibly to visit her father. The lady, herself, said that she was sent home by her husband to be tried for insanity. The case was allowed to go to the jury on condition that she went to Batavia for treatment in the event of her being adjudged insane. This was consented to, and she was found to be mentally debilitated.

Another Defective Switch.

ATLANTIC, N. J., June 30.
 The express train on the Philadelphia & Atlantic railroad this morning, for this place, was thrown from the track at Pleasantville by a loose switch, which swerved after the engine passed, and the baggage car was turned upside down, and four passenger cars were completely wrecked, and about 30 were injured. The seriously injured were Detective Houghton, conductor Lee, E. S. Lippincott, George Dehals, 1119 North Eleventh street, and Mrs. Mascott of 195 Catherine street, Philadelphia. It is believed that some of the injuries are fatal.

Afraid of the Penitentiary.

ATLANTIC, N. J., August 30.
 William Atchison, manager of Charles Mitchell, arrived in this city to-night, and after a conference with Henry J. Rice, manager of Herbert Slade, the following statement of facts were agreed upon: Being notified by the authorities, and knowing it was an impossibility for the Slade-Mitchell prize fight to take place unless all connected took a big risk of going to the penitentiary, I proposed to H. A. Slade's manager, H. J. Rice, to declare the fight off, and he accepted, on conditions that it was publicly understood to declare the fight off.

Accidentally Shot.

BANGOR, Me., August 30.
 Professor Stuart Phelps of Northampton, accidentally shot himself at Chamberlain lake Wednesday. He was putting a gun into a canoe, when it was discharged, and a load of buckshot struck him in the head, killing him instantly. He was in company with the Rev. Newman Smith and C. W. ## Death of an Ex-Confederate.

NEW YORK, August 30.

Bank Thieves Captured.

CLEVELAND, August 30.
 Sylvester Fuller, the runaway cashier of the Second National Bank of Jefferson, Ohio, and H. L. St. John, his assistant, were arrested here to-day on the charge of stealing $50,000 of the bank's money. The defalcation was discovered last December, and they fled to Canada, and on returning, were found and captured.

Death From a Kick.

LITTLE ROCK, August 30.

(PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.)

The Murder Conspirators.

DUBLIN, August 31.
 The evidence which was adduced at the examination of Dr. and Patrick Connelly and their sister, Catherine, charged with implication in a murder conspiracy, indicates that the conspiracy was formed to accomplish private, and not for agrarian purposes, as was supposed. The witness Dineen swore that Dr. Connelly forged the name of John Carroll, and sent Warner the will by which Carroll's property was to be left to Connelly. Dineen, who was to murder Carroll, was to receive 50 pounds from the sum expected to be realized from the latter's property.

Bismarck's Organ.

BERLIN, August 31.
 The North German Gazette, Bismarck's organ, whose recent article against France created such a sensation throughout Europe, says it believes that the thanks of all friends of peace, even in France, are due the Gazette for its timely warning of the consequences which would result from a systematic agitation in France, with the object of exciting hate against Germany.

A Storm on the Sea Coast.

HAIFA, August 31.
 Late intelligence of the effects of Wednesday night's storm along the coast of Nova Scotia shows that the damage to shipping is quite extensive. Ten schooners were driven ashore, some completely wrecked, and others damaged. The fury of the gale was terrific. The lower new Catholic church of Cape Breton was carried away, and a large wooden building was moved from its foundation.

The Hungarian Riots.

PESTH, August 31.
 Tessa, the president of the Hungarian council, in order to put a stop to the outrages upon the Jews, has decided upon severe measures, which are to be put in operation whenever anti-Jewish riots occur. The measures provide that any one who shall be condemned to death by martial law shall be executed within three hours after the sentence shall be imposed.

BATAVIA, August 31.
 The captain of the steamer which was in the Straits of Sunda during the recent volcanic eruption, reports that ashes fell on the deck of his vessel to a depth of eighteen inches; he passed masses of floating pumice stone seven feet deep. It is estimated that 10,000 persons lost their lives at Tjirengin.

When instructing the new United States grand jury in their duties, Judge Hoffman called their attention to the opium smuggling in this city. He read an article in the New York Herald stating that prominent government officials are engaged in the practice, who receive 30 per cent of the profits. The Court stated that no doubt the business is being carried on, and advised the jury to enquire diligently into the matter.

A Fatal Explosion.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 30.
 The engine in the barley mill of B. McRae, at Roseville, exploded this morning at 8 o'clock, instantly killing the engineer, Captain John Brown, and wounded Frank Asher and one Mr. Thieslewat, though not fatally. OUR GIRLS.

The Mistake Being Made by Over Indulgent Mothers.

Many a good mother, looking back over the long road of the past, and, gazing on her horny hands, resolves that her daughter shall have a better time. The mother is no longer strong, and Miss Jenny is a healthy young woman of 22. Yet the mother does all the housework, including the sewing and mending for her daughter. The latter makes tating and edging for her underclothing, and plays very fairly on the piano, which has been squeezed in somewhere, for the family is anything but rich. The mother goes without a new bonnet and fixes her dress over and over, in order that Jenny may appear as well dressed as the other girls of her set. When company comes, Jenny entertains them, and her mother goes on with the work in the kitchen. She waits on the table, and, if anything is wanted during the meal, Jenny never rises to get it, but passes the empty dish to her mother for replenishment, and adjusts her pretty wristlets in happy ignorance of the thoughts of those looking on. Now this is all wrong. The girl is not naturally bad; her mother is solely to blame. Let the younger ones have a good time; don't be so strict as our ancestors were with their families, but have some respect for yourselves, and for your own rights, or your children will doubtless have none for you.

Look out for the Lepers.

The Sacramento Record-Union says: A case of leprosy was discovered yesterday by a reporter in Chinatown. A famous Chinese cook, one who has for years been engaged in cooking for hotels and restaurants, and is now employed in that capacity in a well-to-do family, near Brighton, is thus afflicted. Daily does this boss of a culinary department in a white family call on a well-known physician on I street for treatment. The principal part affected in this case is the hand, and already has the greater portion of one of his fingers and is now in the active process of decay, or rotting off peculiar to this disease.

The Indians' Harvest.

Indians from all parts of the country are now going south to Table Mountain to harvest the pine nut crop, which is said to be abundant this year, says the Silver State. Table Mountain and the range south of it to the Humboldt Salt Marsh are about the only places in the country where the "pinon," or nut pine, grows. They have not been disturbed by the white man's ax, and the Pinuts gather there from far and near to harvest the nuts and have a "big time," dancing and gambling.

More Water in Eureka.

Eureka seems to be getting more than its share of summer showers, having recently experienced another "little flood" from a heavy rainfall above the town. Unless the people of that place repent and build an open aqueduct sufficient to carry a large body of water, they will, one of these days or nights, find themselves scattered about on the flat at the mouth of the canyon.

Tidings of Comfort and Joy. Publishers everywhere are daily receiving letters from their subscribers, praising the wonderful pain-cure, St. Jacobs Oil. All agree that it conquers pain.

OVERMATCHED.

The Last of Jeff Miller, the Noted Desperado.

Jeff Miller, who was killed the other night at Monterey, Mexico, says the Eureka Sentinel, was well known all along the frontier. He had been to Monterey for several weeks on a "shoot-em-up" drunk, and, while hunting for a groggery, he stumbled into a house occupied by reputable people. A Mexican policeman pursued him. Jeff promptly shot the officer for presuming to dog his footsteps. Instantly he was set upon by a squad of the dead man's colleagues, armed with sabres, and although he bravely met the attack, he was finally overcome. Miller was a fair representative of a type of mankind found in the Southwest ten years ago. One of his characteristic exploits was at a ball. Two cow-boys quarreled over a belle. The lie passed, a blow was struck and the six-shooters of the combatants were elevated with a simultaneous click. The fair cause of the difficulty screamed with terror, and threw her arms about the neck of one of the men. He shook her off roughly, and, when she would have again interposed her body between the two, struck her in the face with his clenched hand, and at the same time discharged his pistol, and the man he was facing fell dead. He turned with the smoking pistol in his hand just as a second shot rang out. A little round hole above his temple indicated that a bullet had entered his brain. He never moved, and Jeff Miller walked forward, pistol in hand, and lifted up the woman. Episodes of this character were not of infrequent occurrence at frontier balls in those days. The dead men had no friends to champion their cause and make further shooting necessary, and no one made objection when Jeff pushed his way out with the unconscious woman in his arms.

THE NEW COMPANY.

No Monopoly Need be Feared Where There is Competition.

The New York Sun says: We have observed with great interest the succession of John W. Mackay to the new Postal Telegraph Company. Mr. Mackay is a shrewd man, and we do not believe that he would have embarked in such an enterprise unless he saw in it the promise of success; and we trust that in this anticipation he may not be disappointed. It is desirable that we should have in this country several extensive and powerful telegraph companies, just as it is desirable that there should be among railroads an abundance of strong competing lines. If there were only one great telegraph establishment, without any competition, there would be some reality in the dread of monopoly, which we have heard so much of during the recent strike; but so long as it is possible to establish new companies and new lines, and so long as men of shrewdness and large capital are willing to engage in them, there can be no great danger of a monopoly that will be dangerous to the public interest. Let the liberty of setting on foot all sorts of public enterprises always be maintained and guarded, as a sacred treasure belonging to the American people, and there can be no monopoly which need be regarded with apprehension. Liberty destroys monopoly.

Important Points.

When anyone is in need of medicine, toilet preparations, whiskey, wine, druggists' sundries, etc., good judgment suggests that they purchase where they can buy articles of the best quality for the least money. That is one reason why E. E. Queen is doing the largest and best drug business in Reno. His thorough knowledge of his business enables him to sell most articles in his line at prices so low that they cannot be approached by other houses, while in point of quality he sells the best only. By fair and courteous treatment to all he has won success.

A Race Inauguration.

A recent Chicago dispatch reads: "Jennie Flood of California, is engaged to Baron Beaumont, an Englishman whose lineage is ancient and his resources limited." Whereupon the San Jose Mercury very justly remarks: "This public meddling with private affairs is the most reprehensible feature of American journalism. A mere announcement of the engagement would not be so bad, but for the insinuation that the Baron is in need of Jennie's ducats, is a piece of impudence deserving of a club."

Robbed at Wadsworth.

F. A. Ambler, who has been acting as agent for the C. P. at Wadsworth during the temporary absence of the regular agent, was recently robbed by tramps of the most of his clothing and $20 in money. One of the thieves is the fellow who was committed to jail a few days since for 180 days, having been sent up on another charge.

CORSTOCK HUNTERS.

Don DeQuille on the Effects of Eating Bear Meat.

This morning's Virginia Enterprise says: The following celebrated mountaineers—trained hunters of the Rocky Mountains, Black Hills and adjacent ranges—have just returned from a foray in the Sierras, which extended as far as the headwaters of the American river: Tom Dimond, George King, T. M. Fillebrown, James Welch and Thomas Latta. They were on the scout 20 days, and during that time killed 16 deer and great numbers of grouse, quail and other toothsome small fry. They killed no bear. All the bear gave them a wide berth. When they went one way the bear went the other, and, when the bear reversed things and went one way, they followed suit and went the other. The fact is that grizzly bear meat is not very wholesome or tempting to the civilized appetite, particularly when it offers itself on four legs and in brisk motion. It is then liable to act as a laxative.

The Glendale Ball.

Friday, September 7, 1883, has been set apart as a day of thanksgiving and praise by the people of Glendale. The County Commissioners are thanked, and M. J. Smith is praised. The good folks of Glendale propose to celebrate that evening by joining in a grand ball and general jollification and cordially invite all of Reno to join them in the coming event. Jack Denning is busy as a bee making the necessary arrangements to carry out the programme. M. J. Smith will have charge of the floor.

Delighted With the Telegraph. The Bodie Free Press says: Independence is perfectly delighted with the telegraph. A great many people down there never saw a telegraph instrument until a short time ago. It is said that the people gather round the office and spend all their ready money in sending messages. So interested are the inhabitants in the "chained lightning," that the Postoffice has lost nearly all its business. The farmers and business men say the mails are entirely too slow for them.

What She Had On.

He was unlearned in the nomenclature of female apparel and adornment, but he had been assigned to a fashionable gathering. A lady friend who was present attempted to instruct him. "There," said she, "that lady has a plastron." And the next morning the readers of his paper were informed that Miss Dash, by an ingenious arrangement of ribbons and lace, had succeeded in effectually concealing the porous plaster she was obliged to wear.

They Want a Prize Fight.

The people of El Paso del Norte have subscribed $500 to have the Gladiatorial prize fight held in the vicinity of that town, and the Alcalde has issued a proclamation permitting the fight on Mexican soil. This is really an improvement on Spanish bull-fights, and the Mexican Alcalde is deserving of all credit for recommending the substitution of human contests for bull baitings.

Invalid mothers, weak children, nervous and fretful infants are benefited by using Brown's Iron Bitters. Harmless but efficacious.

Damaged by the Conclave.

The proprietors of mountain and seaside resorts on this coast were materially damaged by the Conclave, as nearly all their guests were in San Francisco during the past week, and it is now too late in the season to return.

COPPER ROOFING.

Much More Economical and Better Than Tin.

The American Architect has the following on copper roofing which is a great importance to the trade: The Scientific American mentions the decline in the price of copper as likely to lead to the increased use of that metal in building. At present the material for a copper roof costs, at the outset, only about twice as much as tin, and as the latter must be repaired and painted about once in three years, and in 15 or 20 years must be renewed altogether, the copper, which never needs painting, and is practically indestructible, is much the cheaper material in the long run. There are in Boston many copper roofs, put on about 40 years ago, which show no signs of deterioration; and the metal is still much employed in that city for cornices, gutters, and rain-water pipes, as well as for covering bay-windows, and in many other ways, in place of galvanized iron, which is much inferior in beauty and durability, and not very much cheaper. The copper has the additional advantage of needing no paint, so that the delicate lines of artistic work are in no danger of being filled up, and the metal increases rather than diminishes in beauty, by the slow formation of a bluish-green patina over it. For flushings, as well as other portions of roof-work, copper is much superior to zinc or tin, and with the aid of a certain amount of lead, the most difficult problems in roofing can be successfully and permanently solved.

THE SHIP RAILWAY.

What Captain Eads Says About the Enterprise.

Captain Eads was interviewed in New York the other day. He says the Tehuantepec ship railroad will be built if he lives five years longer, that it will save 2,400 miles of sea voyage over the Panama canal between Liverpool or New York and the Orient, and that it will cost about $50,000,000. He further said he had received many letters from England, touching the enterprise of building a ship railroad across Suez; the fact being that while England had the country, Lesseps had the exclusive right to build a canal, but could not interdict the building of a ship railway. Captain Eads thinks a ship railway for the 90 miles across Suez could be built for $25,000,000 or $30,000,000 against the $100,000,000 which the Suez canal cost.

He Knew who Held It.

"Who held the pass of Thermopylae against the Persian host?" demanded the teacher. And the editor's boy at the foot of the class spoke up and said, "Father, I reckon; he holds an annual on every road in the State that runs a passenger train."

A Fine Reception.
